

Supervised Research, Creative, & Professional Experience F11 Contract

Students seeking to fulfill the F11 with a faculty-supervised research, creative, or professional experience must submit this completed contract to the Registrar's Office by the end of the Add Period in the term they expect F11 to be awarded. Students may earn F11 for completing 138 hours of a supervised research, creative, or professional experience in one of two ways:

- Earn three (3) credits of 451/452 Research Practicum (1 credit = 46 hours of work)
- Complete 138 hours of faculty-supervised research, creative, or professional activity as an Undergraduate Fellow

Student learning outcomes for faculty-supervised research, creative, or professional experiences:

- Participate in an authentic, faculty-supervised research or creative activity that results in professional engagement with the field (e.g. conference presentation, peer reviewed manuscript, juried exhibit or performance) and complements and broadens the student's program of study and prepares the student for graduate study or a career.
- Develop research, creative, or professional skills used by professionals in the relevant field.

Supervised Research, Creative, or Professional Experience F11 Assessment

Students seeking to fulfill the F11 with a faculty-supervised research, creative, or professional experience need to complete this assessment with their faculty supervisor upon completion of 138 hours of supervised work. The Chair will submit the completed assessment to the Registrar's Office by the last day of the semester's grading period. IMPORTANT: For seniors in their final term at Rhodes, the assessment is due on the last day of the Withdraw Period. There are two student learning outcomes for F11 experiences:

- Participate in an authentic, faculty-supervised research or creative activity that results in professional engagement with the field (e.g. conference presentation, peer reviewed manuscript, juried exhibit or performance) and complements and broadens the student's program of study and prepares the student for graduate study or a career.
- Develop research, creative, or professional skills used by professionals in the relevant field.

F11 Sustained Engagement: Connect academic study to community, global, or professional engagement.

Sustained engagement involves developing the knowledge, skills, competencies, and values that prepare students to be thriving professionals and engaged members of local and global communities. Rhodes students become engaged citizens through involvement in activities related to their academic interests and professional goals. Sustained engagement to fulfill the F11 requires a minimum of 138 hours (equivalent to three Rhodes credits) and includes credited and non-credited experiences with measurable student learning outcomes. Although professional, community, and global engagement are not mutually exclusive activities, professional engagement normally includes paid and unpaid academic internships, working in research labs, ROTC military training, and Career Practical Training (CPT); community engagement includes student fellowships, community-based research, and Rhodes courses and certificates with community-based learning components; global engagement includes study abroad/away experiences.

Questions for Student

1. Provide a brief description (250 word maximum) of how the F11 experience complemented and broadened your program(s) of study and prepared you for graduate study or career.
2. Describe the skills you acquired in F11 experience.
3. Pledge you have completed 138 hours of faculty-supervised work.

Questions for Faculty Research Supervisor

1. How many hours of research, creative, or professional work did you supervise this student? _____
2. Did the student acquire the research, creative, or professional skills specified by the student in Question 2 above. If they did not, please attach an explanation.

Chairs in departments and programs where the F11 is supervised will review this assessment and acknowledge fulfillment of the F11. Chairs will submit approved assessments to the Registrar's Office.
