Non-degree Student Registration

The following policies govern special student enrollment at Rhodes College:

1. A Non-degree Student is expected to meet the course requirements in exactly the same fashion as degree-seeking students at Rhodes in terms of the semester start and end times, daily class schedules, drop/add and course withdrawal dates, final examinations, and other time-related aspects the course. Students must be aware that the academic calendars of the various institutions do not always coincide and that deadlines and dates will vary.
2. All courses are offered on a space-available basis. The instructor of the course makes the final determination regarding availability. Registration for Non-degree Students is conducted on the first day of classes of each semester, giving degree students priority to enroll in courses.
3. The Non-degree Student Registration form must be submitted to Rhodes Express in order for the special student to be registered for the course. The form must contain the approval signature of the instructor of the desired course(s) and the Bursar of the College or his representative.
4. Non-degree students are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with policies and procedures of Rhodes College. The Rhodes Honor Code states: "As a member of the Rhodes College community, I pledge my full and steadfast support to the Honor System and agree neither to lie, cheat, nor steal and to report any such violation that I may witness." Disciplinary action can be taken for failure to abide by social or academic policies of the College, including the imposition of academic suspension or the inability to reenroll for future semesters.
5. Non-degree students are expected to abide by the same payment policies as degree-seeking students. Payment in full of the tuition is due prior to the beginning of classes. Once the student begins attending classes, the full tuition remains due and payable, and a refund will not be provided if the student stops attending classes during the semester.

I have read and understand the policies regarding enrollment as a non-degree, special student and agree to abide by them. I agree to abide by the academic and social policies and procedures of Rhodes College. I understand that failure to do so may lead to involuntary withdrawal from the course(s) in which I am enrolled and other possible consequences.
